

FORT TICONDEROGA SEMINAR ON THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION

FACULTY: Since 2004

2004: First Annual

John Buchanan, "Boys, get up, Benny's Coming!": Daniel Morgan and the Battle of Cowpens, 17 January 1781.

Howard Burnham, dramatic presentation General John Burgoyne.

Arthur B. Cohn, New Underwater Research on the American Revolution on Lake Champlain.

George C. Neumann, Foreign Arms that Saved the American Revolution.

Barnet Schecter, The Battle for New York City: The Other Key to a Continent.

Eric Schnitzer, "The Women . . . Did Not Wash for Dutchmen": The Sad Story of George Hundermark, a German British Soldier of Burgoyne's Army from Canada.

Nicholas Westbrook, "A Damn Sink of a Place": The Winter of 1776-77 at Fort Ticonderoga and Mount Independence.

2005: Second Annual

Howard Burnham, dramatic presentation The Honour of Arms and the Good of the Country: Lord Amherst Memorializes.

John M. Cook, The Battle of Bunker Hill.

Amy Butler Greenfield, A Revolutionary Red: The History of Cochineal.

James Kochan, King George's Sea Soldiers: British Marines in the American Revolution.

Arthur S. Lefkowitz, Eye Witness Images of the American Revolution.

Marlene O'Hara, Fort Ticonderoga to Dorchester Heights: The Noble Train of Artillery and Boston's Freedom.

C.E. Pippenger, Benedict Arnold Wins the Revolution: The Saint John's Raid of May 18, 1775.

Len Travers, "Who . . . would not covet such glorious wounds?": Independence Day and the Creation of the American Veteran.

Philip Weaver, 2nd New York Provincial Battalion and the Assault on Quebec (December 31, 1775).

LeGrand Weller, Introduction to Using the Searchable CD-ROM of Peter Forces' American Archives.

Nicholas Westbrook, Introduction to Using the Searchable CD-ROM of Peter Forces' American Archives.

Marko Zlatich, Toward an Inventory of Revolutionary War Era Uniforms in North American Public Collections.

2006: Third Annual

William Ahearn, The Brown Bess Musket in Colonial America.

Richard Brooks, Terror in the South Carolina Backcountry 1781.

Howard Burnham, dramatic presentation One Battle May Give Us America, or Never Play Hockey with a Bishop: Lord Cornwallis in America.

Thomas Desjardin, Through a Howling Wilderness: Benedict Arnold's Attack on Quebec 1775.

Michael Gadue, LTC Friederich Baum—A Figure Little Known to History.

Don Hagist, Roger Lamb, Common British Soldier.

Thomas Hughes, America's First Public Sector Historic Site: Washington's Newburgh Headquarters, estab. 1850.

Anne McCarty, A Passion for Freedom: Thaddeus Kosciuszko.

James Nelson, Benedict Arnold's Navy.

Erick Tichonuk, Memoirs of a Replica Gunboat Captain: Captain Rue and the Continental Gondola Philadelphia.

2007: Fourth Annual

Howard Burnham, dramatic presentation The Bubble Reputation: Bloody Ban Tarleton Reflects.

Richard Colton, The Springfield Laboratory.

John Ferling, Memory and War: Reassessing the Revolutionary War.

Kevin Graffagnino, "The Gods of the Valleys are not Gods of the Hills": The Quotable Ethan Allen.

Donald Londahl-Smith, The Germans in Burgoyne's Army 1777.

George C. Neumann, Washington's 2nd Army at Monmouth.

Perry Pickert, Déjà vu All Over Again: The Intelligence Lessons of the Battle of Saratoga for the War in Iraq.

Willard Sterne Randall, William Franklin: For "King and Country."

John U. Rees, "The Pleasure of their number": 1778—Crisis, Conscription, and Revolutionary Soldiers' Recollections.

Richard Strum, Henry Knox: Beyond the Noble Train of Artillery.

Phil Weaver, The 3rd New Jersey in New-York: Stories from The Jersey Greys of 1776.

2008: Fifth Annual

Todd Braisted, Royalist Corps on the Burgoyne Campaign.

Joseph Fischer, Creating a Respectable Army: the Sullivan Campaign as Institutional Case Study.

Erik Goldstein, Rethinking the Potter: the Truth Behind the Revolutionary War's Ultimate Sword.

Jim Hogue, dramatic presentation The Gods of the Hills: Ethan Allen.

Holly Mayer, Congress' Own: French Canadian Continentals and Camp Followers.

James Nelson, George Washington's Secret Navy.

Seanegan Sculley, Men of the Meanest Sort: Military Leadership and War in New England, 1745-1775.

William Troppman, With Pen and Sword: Benjamin Franklin at War (1775-1783).

Mark Turdo, Why Us? The Moravians and Revolutionary America.

Glenn F. Williams, The Siege of Yorktown: The Decisive Engagement of the American War for Independence.

2009: Sixth Annual

Russell Bourne, The Boston-Fort Ticonderoga Connection.

Howard Burnham, North Laurels and Southern Willows: General Gates Defends Himself, December 1780

Douglas Egerton, Judging the Founders: Slavery and the Roads Not Taken.

John Fea, The Presbyterian Rebellion: Christianity and the American Revolution.

Joseph R. Fischer, The American Revolution Considered as a People's War: the US Army Command and Staff College Approach.

Sean Grady, Rendezvous with Treason: The Arnold-André Conspiracy.

James Kirby Martin, Forgotten Allies: The Oneida Indians, the Six Nations, and the American Revolution.

George C. Neumann, How Greene Lost Every Battle and Saved the South.

Gary Petagine, Rendezvous with Treason: The Arnold-André Conspiracy.

Eric Schnitzer, "Yes, but Should you Trust it?": Researching Historical Artwork and using Artwork for Historical Research.

Robert A. Selig, French War Aims and the Caribbean Islands, 1781-1783.

AFFILIATIONS

William Ahearn, collector and author

Russell Bourne, author and former editor/publisher of American Heritage Books

Todd Braisted, Loyalist Institute

Richard Brooks, Savannah River Archaeological Program, University of South Carolina

John Buchanan, historian and author

Howard Burnham, actor

Arthur B. Cohn, Executive Director, Lake Champlain Maritime Museum, and author

Richard Colton, Springfield Armory National Historic Site.

John Cook, former National Park Service Park Ranger

Thomas Desjardin, historian and author

Douglas Egerton, author and LeMoyne College

John Fea, author and Messiah College

John Ferling, author and University of West Georgia (emeritus)

Joseph R. Fischer, author and US Army Command and General Staff College

Michael Gadue, independent historian

Erik Goldstein, Colonial Williamsburg and author

Sean Grady, educator and independent historian

Kevin Graffagnino, Executive Director, Vermont Historical Society and author

Amy Butler Greenfield, author

Don Hagist, independent researcher and author

Jim Hogue, actor

Thomas Hughes, site manager at Crown Point State Historic Site

James Kochan, former curator and author

Arthur S. Lefkowitz, author

Lt. Col. Donald Londahl-Smidt, Director of the Johannes Schwalm Historical Association

James Kirby Martin, author and University of Houston

Holly Mayer, Duquesne University and author

Anne McCarty, former Director of Membership and Special Initiatives, Fort Ticonderoga

James Nelson, historian and author

George C. Neumann, collector and author

Marlene O'Hara, student at the Boston Latin School and winner of the Fort Ticonderoga-South Boston Evacuation Day Essay Contest 2005

Gary Petagine, educator and independent historian

Perry Pickert, Catholic University

C.E. Pippenger, researcher

Willard Sterne Randall, Champlain College and author

John U. Rees, independent historian

Barnet Schecter, historian and author

Eric Schnitzer, Park Ranger and Historian, Saratoga National Historical Park

Seanegan Sculley, United States Military Academy and author

Robert A. Selig, independent historian

Richard Strum, Director of Interpretation & Education, Fort Ticonderoga and author

Erick Tichonuk, underwater archaeologist and Director of Education, Lake Champlain Maritime Museum

Len Travers, University of Massachusetts-Dartmouth and author

William Troppman, Park Ranger, Valley Forge National Historical Park

Mark Turdo, Assistant Curator, Fort Ticonderoga

Philip Weaver, researcher

Dr. LeGrand Weller, University of Texas (ret.) and oil company executive (ret.)

Nicholas Westbrook, Executive Director (emeritus), Fort Ticonderoga

Glenn F. Williams, Senior Historian, National Museum of the US Army, and author

Marko Zlatich, researcher at the Smithsonian and author